Child Abuse Help Lines

If you suspect a child is being abused or want to help a family get assistance, you can call your county's child protection agency. To find out about ways to prevent child abuse and support families, call:

- Childhelp National Child Abuse Hotline at 1-8-4-A-CHILD or 1-800-422-4453 (www.childhelp.org/get_help)
- Call the local Child Protection Service.

It is always safer to report cases of child abuse rather than assuming everything is all right. A child often has no one to turn to or does not know where to go for help. It is up to you to be that child's lifeline.

Document Released: 12/08/2003 Document Re-Released: 03/16/2010
ExitCare® Patient Information ©2011 ExitCare, LLC.